Germantown Library News

There will be an informational meeting at the library on April 15 at 1pm about possible jobs with the Census Bureau. They're hiring soon, with good pay and flexible hours. Our next story time will be Wed. April 24 at 11am with a spring gardening theme. All preschoolers and toddlers are welcome. We're collecting jar lids for a summer reading project. Clean, 1 piece (like jelly jar lids) are needed before June 1. All fines and fees collected during May will be donated to Rally for Rae. So pay for those lost books and late fees, get your kids' accounts cleared up, make copies or get something special laminated during May. Even if you don't owe any money, donations will also be accepted!
