MRS. BECKER'S NOTES

On Wednesday, we kicked off our #GOALS character and leadership program with a big house reveal. Harry Potter, Professor McGonagall, and the magic of the sorting hat helped to get all of the students sorted into houses. Next Monday, September 9, the students will get into their houses for a fun lesson activity on GRIT. We ask that all of the students wear their house t-shirt to school next Monday.

What will we be teaching our students about grit? We will be teaching them that in life they will face challenges. We will encourage them to push through those challenges with perseverance and grit so that they can turn those challenges into successes. We want the students to understand that they grow most when challenged.

Anything you can do at home to reinforce the concept of 'grit' would be greatly appreciated.
