

From the Desk of Mrs. McSparin...

It's been a great school year at Germantown Elementary, and I'm looking forward to seeing you all next year! In case you don't know me, my name is Lynn (Klostermann) McSparin, and I live in my hometown of Breese with my husband, Dustin, and our three children, Hannah (8), Ava (4), and Noah (2). I attended St. Dominic grade school (now All Saints Academy), Mater Dei High School, Millikin University, and SIU Edwardsville. I enjoy spending time with my family, participating in Clinton County Showcase plays and musicals, traveling, exercising, and reading.

During my first 10 years of teaching, I taught at St. Paul in Highland, at the Benton County Schools in Tennessee, and at Holy Trinity Catholic School in Fairview Heights. In these schools, I taught 4th grade, 6th- and 7th-grade Language Arts and Social Studies, Early Learners, Library, Challenge, and Art.

Teaching in various schools and in various grade levels and subjects has given me wonderful experiences to develop a creative and challenging curriculum. I am extremely excited to be working at Germantown Elementary as part of this wonderful faculty, staff, and educational community!

If you have any questions or comments for me, please e-mail at lmcsparin@clinton.k12.il.us.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Lynn McSparin
