

Kindergarten Korner

Mrs. Timmermann's News

Feb. 16, 2012

A look at what we did this week:

Reading- We finished up the letter "Kk" and started learning all about "Gg". The kids enjoyed creating an advertisement for a "garage sale" that only sold items that started with "G". We also continued to practice categorizing words as naming or action words and learned about summarizing a story.

Math- We continued to learn to identify, count and name the value of the penny, nickel, dime and quarter. Counting the money is a difficult task for Kindergarteners so please keep practicing at home. We also did some graphing using candy hearts to help us celebrate Valentine's Day.

In honor of President's Day next week we have been busy learning about some of the first leaders of our country. We also discussed the role of the President and some of his duties. Ask your children to tell you something that they have learned.

A look ahead to next week:

Reading- We will complete the activities for the letter "Gg" and begin learning about the vowel "Ee".

Math- Since the concept of money is a difficult one we will spend some more time with this skill next week. The focus will be on counting money.

Odds and Ends:

The kids had a great time on Valentine's Day; I think they got enough candy to last a while.

Because of the wet weather we did not go to the library this week, hopefully we can make it next week.

Thank you for all of the Box Tops!
